Real Vision Learning For Universities

Real Vision is the only video on demand platform that provides members with access to the most successful people in finance. The peer-to-peer interviews and in-depth presentations hosted on Real Vision give unparalleled insight into how the sharpest minds think about the world, how they apply their financial knowledge, and how they navigate the complex issues of the industry.

What Can Real Vision Do For You?

Real Vision Learning provides a ground-breaking education tool for students studying finance, economics or business.

Real Vision helps educate students about the real world and what to expect from a career in finance after university, and helps them better understand the economy in which we live and work. The content is highly practical and applied in nature and combines well with the more theoretical learnings from their academic curricula.

> The biggest names in finance

Real Vision interviews the most successful and well-respected names in the world of finance, and gives them the platform to speak openly about what's really on their mind.

> Fresh, current content

Updated with 5 new long-form pieces each week, our contributors stay on top of the current market environment, often flagging major changes far in advance.

> Linking theoretical to practical

Our content is the perfect complement to the academic curriculum, providing real-life case studies to link theoretic finance to applied finance.

> Back catalogue

With over 600 interviews and presentations from industry legends, our back catalogue is an incredible resource for business, finance, and economic research.

> Professional edge for students

Give your students the extra edge in the job market. With the exposure to high-level conversations on the practical applications of their university learnings, students can hit the ground running after graduation.

With Real Vision's Learning program, you'll give your students a digital encyclopedia of finance videos that they will actually want to watch, giving them a distinct edge in the professional job market.

Student Feedback

"Academic theories gave me a basic understanding of global financial markets. But nothing in the 'real world' goes as is predicted in the books. To have a real edge and get a thorough understanding of financial markets you'll need something else. Real Vision gave me that edge."
Niek Stevens, Utrecht University
